Gear Up for City Creek!

a walk • run • bike community event

On October 21, 2023, the Salt Lake City Public Utilities team celebrated City Creek Canyon with the Gear Up City Creek. The event opened with a few words from Public Utilities Director Laura Breifer about the necessity of the project, followed by FEMA Region 8 Branch Chief Vanessa Castillo and Salt Lake City Mayor Erin Mendenhall.

About 40 City Creek Canyon users joined the event.

Recreators were encouraged to walk, run, or bike up to the water treatment plant and beyond.

Project team members were stationed throughout the canyon to answer questions about the project, handout water bottles, and provide water.

After listening to public concern at the event about the trails, Director Breifer asked teams to relook at access to adjacent trails.
